Amy

We went to the Butterfly and Insect Farm yesterday. We had a great time and we saw lots of mini-beasts! Here are our photos! More than 500 butterflies live there. It's perfect for them. (1) I love butterflies. I think the Swallowtail is the most beautiful butterfly here. You can see the butterfly feeding table in this picture. (2) The butterflies are drinking the juice from the fruit. They love it!

Simon

This is the Spider Safari. They've got more than 50 different spiders here including some enormous tarantulas! I don't like spiders very much – I'm a bit scared. They aren't dangerous. 3 They aren't moving – I think they're sleeping. My brother loves spiders and I'm taking lots of photos for him. His favourite is the Goliath bird-eating spider. 4 It isn't eating a bird in the photos – thank goodness!

Koalas live in one country in the world – Australia. All koalas are grey. A lot of people call them koala bears, but they're not bears. They're marsupials – these are animals that have a pouch to carry their babies in, like kangaroos and wallabies. Koala mothers carry their babies in their pouch until they're about six months old. Koalas eat eucalyptus leaves. They don't like leaves from other types of trees. They get food and liquid from the eucalyptus leaves, so they don't drink a lot of water. Koalas like to sleep. They sleep for 18–20 hours a day!

Lu's job Amazing bears A safe place

There are about 1,500 wild panda bears in China. They don't live in any other part of the world. There are sanctuaries in China because pandas are in danger of extinction. Pandas only eat bamboo, but the bamboo forests are disappearing. Pandas need about 13.5 kilos of bamboo every day! Pandas eat bamboo for about 16 hours every day. When a panda isn't eating, it sleeps.

The sanctuary is a special place. Scientists study and look after pandas there. In the future they want to put the pandas back in the bamboo She thinks it's very inforests. When baby pandas are born they weigh about conservation.

about 100 grams. They're tiny! Scientists look after them very carefully.

By Chinese tradition they give the baby pandas a name when they're 100 days old.

3

Lu is a teacher and a tourist guide at the sanctuary. Tourists, school children and Chinese families visit the sanctuary. Lu teaches them about pandas. She loves her job. She thinks it's very important to teach people about conservation.

• Read and write the headings on the Medieval Town leaflet.

Go shopping! Lessons for boys

Paint like a monk! Listen to medieval music!

Welcome to the Living Museum. Visit the Medieval Town and discover life in the Middle Ages!

1 Listen to medieval music!

Monks lived in monasteries. Visit the church and listen to the monks singing. The monks went to church eight times a day!

2

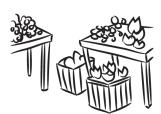

The Medieval school was just for boys – girls didn't go to school in the Middle Ages. They learned to read and write. They didn't study Music or do PE. They studied Mathematics and learned Latin and Greek too.

The monks made beautiful books in the monastery.
They didn't have computers or printers, so they wrote the books by hand.
They also decorated the books with very beautiful pictures.

They didn't have supermarkets in the Middle Ages. People went to the market for fruit, meat and vegetables. Are you hungry? Have lunch in our medieval market.

2 Read again. Write church, monastery, school or market.

• Read the story. Number these people in the order they appear.

My name's Sam. Rosie is my neighbour. Last Saturday she went to the park. I went shopping with Mum, but later I went to the park to meet her.

We played tennis in the park with Rosie's brother Jake. Jake hit the ball over the wall into Mrs Black's garden. Mrs Black doesn't like children. She never gives them back their tennis balls.

We didn't want to see Mrs Black. So Rosie climbed over the wall and jumped into the garden. Then she saw a thief. She watched him. He opened a window and climbed into the house.

Rosie thought quickly. She called the police on her mobile phone. They arrived in a police car. They arrested the thief.

Mrs Black invited Rosie into the house. She said thank you to her and she gave her a drink and some biscuits. Then she gave Rosie her tennis ball – and a big bag of other tennis balls too!

Planet Travel Guide 3010

Are you thinking of visiting VPZ59? Here are five top tips for visitors.

1 VPZ59 has got two suns

and it's very hot. The sun's radiation is dangerous for Earthlings.

All visitors from Earth have to use a special cream.

It's easy to travel on VPZ59. There are transporter stations on every street. You have to buy a ticket. Then you stand in the transporter and say where you want to go. In 15 seconds, you're there!

2VPZ59ers are very friendly, but you have to know what to do when you meet them. If you want to make friends, you have to learn how to say hello!

vipi fruit

You can find fantastic things to eat. VPZ59 is famous for its vipi fruits. They are big, blue and delicious. You have to try them!

You have to watch a VPZball match. There are two teams of 11 people. They play with a ball. They can't touch the ball with their hands. They have to put the ball in a net. It's strange, but it's fun!

2 Look at the tourist guide again. Complete the notes.

• Read the article. Answer the questions.

- 1 What did Eva win?
- 2 Where does Eva find her ideas?
- 3 Where is Eva going to go?

Oxford Voice: Eva, when did you start making videos?

Eva: I started about three years ago. My mobile phone has a video camera and I started making mini films with it.

Oxford Voice: How do you think of an idea for a film?

Eva: Well, I often find ideas in newspapers. Then I talk to my friends and we invent the story together.

Oxford Voice: Were you surprised to win the award?

The winner is ... Eva Taylor!

The Oxford Voice interviewed Eva Taylor, the winner of this year's Student Video competition. The award is for the best video made by students. Eva and her team made a short film of a detective story. They wrote the story and planned the film. They used their friends as actors and they made the film at their homes and in their gardens. The famous actor Christine Moore said, 'Eva worked very hard and the film is fantastic!'

Eva: Yes, I was – very! And now I'm very excited.

Oxford Voice: Why?

Eva: Because the prize is a trip to Hollywood for me and the team. We're going to go in a jumbo jet – first class! Then we're going to visit the most important studios. We're going to watch a film by my favourite director, Billy Benson. I think he's amazing.

Oxford Voice: That's great. Congratulations, and have a good time!
